

Ye Olde Town Pump

How old it is, nobody knows. Even the oldest resident can't remember a time when it wasn't there. Nor does anyone know how many weary sojourners and their cattle and horses have been refreshed at this oasis.

The water tank that stood beside it was removed soon after the auto replaced the horse. Several times the handle of the pump has been welded after the mail trucks and other vehicles have backed into it.

Left: Lawrence Cassidy and Lyle Popham stand at the town pump.
Right: Emma Enders' car in front of Post Office